

General Information

Most Utah fuel tax forms and schedules must be filed electronically using the Electronic Combined Utah Fuel Tax Return. Click here for more information. If you need to file an amended return for an old period, use forms listed here .

Non-licensed fuel accounts must file refund applications on the TC-116, Fuel Tax Refund Application . Licensed carriers also use TC-116 for Utah tax-paid gallons that are:

- delivered to Utah portion of Navajo Nation
- lost or destroyed by fire, flood, crime and accident
- discharged in bankruptcy
- returned to refinery for re-refining

Note: If you file more than one refund application per year or have 50 or more transactions, you must file your refund electronically, using the XLS version of the TC-116 .
